WELCOME TO PARDES

Why the rimon (pomegranate)?

The pomegranate, symbol of the Pardes Institute, is one of the seven species which the Bible views as characteristic of the Land of Israel (Deuteronomy 8:8). To our Sages, the many-seeded pomegranate represented the fertile possibilities inherent not only in the land, but in the Jewish People and its Torah. In fact, the ideal pomegranate is said to have 613 seeds, one for each of the mitzvot (commandments) mentioned in the Bible. At Pardes, the varied facets of Torah, of Israel and of each student are explored and, like the many seeds of the pomegranate, are brought together in a harmonious whole.

The word pardes (פרדס) means orchard in Hebrew. The Hebrew letters פרדס refer to the 4 levels of understanding Jewish texts: pshat, remez, drash, and sod.

NEW CONCEPTS

Learning Jewish texts in a traditional way involves opening yourself up to a unique style of studying and learning. The goal of limudei kodesh (Jewish learning) is not to memorize a vast amount of knowledge. Rather, it is about joining a 3,000 year old conversation. It is about personal growth and about adding your voice to the myriad of learners who preceded you. This is a challenging approach to learning for many people, especially those most comfortable with a traditional teacher-student relationship. Your year at Pardes is not about sitting and taking notes from your teacher (although you may do this as well)—it is about learning how to learn.

The beit midrash (main study hall) is where most of your learning takes place. This is not a classroom; it is a “house of study,” where the hum of debate and discussion is the perfect environment for the task at hand. Here you sit with your havruta (learning partner) and discover Jewish texts together. Questions are your main tool. You read texts and commentaries and then discuss their meanings. From the most beginner student to the most advanced, this is how Jewish learning is accomplished - through shared voices. You should never be afraid to bring up any question - with your havruta or in class. A wise person once said, “Judaism isn’t about having all the right answers. It’s about the right questions.” At Pardes, the right questions are any that bother you, any that you wish to address. Questions lead to a deeper understanding of the text. Questions are always welcome—in class and in the beit midrash.

Debate is also an essential tool of learning in Jewish tradition. Machloket (disagreement/debate) is present throughout the texts you will study, and it will be a vital aspect of your classroom experience. It is okay to disagree—with your havruta and even with your teacher. The idea of machloket is highly respected in Jewish thought. Do not be afraid of it, even if it is strange and new to you.

These new ideas and ways of learning may be intimidating at first, but remember that there are many people here to help you. Your teacher and other students (in particular returning students) are always available to help, even in the beit midrash. By the end of the summer session or the year, the beit midrash will be a very comfortable place, and your own voice and own opinions will be more familiar to you.

PRAYER, DIVERSITY AND THE PARDES COMMUNITY

Pardes - a community that brings students and faculty together to encounter and master classic Jewish texts - has no institutional ties to any denominational or political movement. From its inception, Pardes has been committed to creating and nurturing a diverse and inclusive community, a community that embraces a remarkably wide range of Jewish affiliations and practices, within and beyond the constraints of denominationalism.

Consistent with its commitment to diversity and inclusiveness, Pardes admits any qualified applicant who is considered Jewish by any of the major denominations. Overall, we believe that the Pardes community encompasses the widest scope of students imaginable, students with diverse backgrounds and beliefs who learn, think, debate and live in great harmony. At Pardes, the freedom of individual conscience is as paramount as our desire to create an authentic and intensive Jewish learning community.

Our strong commitment to these principles has resulted in the open, diverse and inclusive community that is Pardes. Frequently, we will try to build community within this diversity. To that end, Pardes becomes a kind of laboratory on how Jewish communities can simultaneously celebrate its diversity and yet enable us to come together to have communal shared experiences that transcend our differences. At other times, however, when people are strongly committed to diverse views that are mutually exclusive, the only way to support them is to create separate spaces for them. As such Pardes provides students with a range of prayer options including a traditional minyan (prayer service) with a mehitza (divider) separating men and women, an egalitarian minyan, the option to create alternative minyanim and the option of not to pray at all.

Although anyone considered Jewish by a major denomination can attend Pardes, in the context of prayer experiences, each of the minyanim may have their own halakhic guidelines with regard to Jewish identity and who may lead the prayer service.

How has all of this worked out? No solution or policy is perfect, but overall, we believe that it has been successful. Pardes intentionally attempts to move beyond divisions in almost all of its activities - study, celebration and touring. The different prayer services - which emerge from the denominational reality of the Jewish world - are both vital as well as vibrant, working in a mutually complementary manner.

However, even the most well-intentioned and well-balanced institutional policies can achieve only so much. In the final analysis, it is the honesty, goodwill and generosity-of-spirit of our diverse community that are the most decisive factors in overcoming ideological rifts and human frailties, and sustaining the unique community that is Pardes.

PARDES POLICIES

General

- Attendance Policy - A vital ingredient of the intensity and integrity of learning at Pardes is faithful, punctual attendance. When you miss class, the whole class suffers, especially your havruta. Any student anticipating an extended absence must inform Dean David Bernstein, the registrar and his/her teachers at least two weeks in advance (including any trips outside the country).

If you are receiving financial aid, please be aware that in accordance with your agreement, extended time away from Pardes will result in a deduction from your financial aid package.

- Check List to Submit to the Registrar in the Office
  1. Medical Insurance – When you arrive, you will receive a medical release form and be able to purchase medical insurance (more information is below).
  2. Copy of your Passport
  3. Tuition Payments - Keep receipts of payments for your records.
  4. College Loans - Pardes is recognized as a post-secondary educational institution for the purpose of deferring repayment of college loans. Please see the registrar with your loan deferment request form.
- Office Facilities - The office is open 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. The offices and their contents (phones, computers, printers, supplies) are not for general student use. The photocopy machine can be used by students at a cost of half a shekel per page, and only when instructors and staff do not need the machine. Faxes can also be sent and received for a fee.
- Printing at Pardes - If students need to have something printed, Joanne the office manager can help you with this at a cost of half a shekel per page. You can email the document to info@pardes.org.il. Please note, Joanne can only print pdf files. This will allow your documents to be printed exactly as they appear on the screen. There are a number of free programs that can be downloaded enabling you to save your Word, Excel, PowerPoint etc. as a PDF file. These include www.dopdf.com, www.pdf995.com, www.cutepdf.com, and many others.
- General Cleanliness - (משנה סוטה ט:טו) "...ונקיות מביאה לידי טהרה..." "...cleanliness fosters purity..." (Mishna Sota 9:15). Please make an ongoing concerted effort to keep all areas at Pardes neat and clean.
- Computer and Wifi - There is a student computer in the hallway, and there is wi-fi in the building. The computer in the beit midrash is reserved for Torah-related research.
- Activity Fees and Trips - Trips, Shabbat and holiday programs, special lectures and other activities, unless otherwise noted, are highly subsidized for full and part-time Pardes students. There is usually a small registration fee. Hourly students may pay for these activities on an event-by-event basis when they sign up. (Full-time students cannot transfer their eligibility to participate in an activity to someone else, nor will any money be refunded for non-participation in activities.)

Well in advance of a hike or overnight tiyul (trip), we will post a notice indicating itinerary, what to bring, cost, etc. Everyone (including full and part time students) who wishes to attend must sign up and pay the registration fee so that we can order the right size bus, etc. A student who signs up and fails to attend may deprive another student of a place and/or may cost Pardes the substantial difference between a small or large bus.

- Pardes Activities Schedule – THE PARDES STUDENT ACTIVITIES SCHEDULE CAN BE EMBEDDED INTO YOUR GOOGLE CALENDAR:
- Faculty Advisers (“Mechanchim”) - Every member of the Pardes administration and faculty stands ready to serve as consultant, advisor or sounding-board at your initiative. In addition, each full-time student will have a faculty advisor who will be available for you specifically.
- Counseling/Therapy – See “Services Around Town.”
- Your personal belongings – Pardes is not responsible for your personal belongings left around the building: bikes, books, phones, etc. Please keep a watchful eye over your items. Lockers are available.

The Beit Midrash

- The beit midrash (main study hall) is like a one-room schoolhouse. It is perfectly legitimate to ask more advanced students for help. Teachers, too, are in the beit midrash as resources for you. You are not disturbing them if you ask questions; they are there for that very purpose. If you have a question that cannot be answered on the spot, they will be happy to set aside time for a lengthier discussion.
- Much of your learning will take place in the beit midrash. It is a good idea to arrange for a different havruta (learning partner) for each subject. We cannot stress enough the importance of having a suitable havruta to get the most out of your learning. If you have difficulty finding an appropriate havruta, speak to your teachers.
- Books in the beit midrash (which should not leave Pardes!) should be re-shelved after use.
- Drinks are permitted in the beit midrash, but mugs and cans should be removed, spills wiped up, etc. Food is not permitted out of respect for the room's sanctity. For the same reason, students should not walk around barefoot. (Yes, we know about Moses; if you see a burning bush not being consumed, you may remove your shoes.)

Tefilla (Prayer)

There is a traditional minyán (prayer service) at Pardes with a mehitza (divider between men and women) as well as an egalitarian service every day for afternoon prayers and also some mornings. Students are welcome to initiate other types of prayer services as well.

(Lack of) Dress Code

There is no dress code at Pardes, but you are encouraged to dress in a way which feels respectful to you. As stated earlier, you must wear shoes in the beit midrash.

The Kitchen and Kashrut Policy

The purpose of these guidelines is to provide a comfortable environment where everyone can dine together, respecting the needs of the other in terms of kashrut (Jewish dietary laws) and cleanliness. We expect the public space at Pardes to be kept both kosher and clean.

Students are invited to bring their own lunch and eat in the dining room, with the following provisions:

- 1) The sinks and microwave at Pardes are for dairy and pareve (pareve means neither meat nor dairy) food.
  - 2) Under no circumstances, should any student use Pardes cutlery or plates for their own food (these are usually locked away outside of community lunch times).
  - 3) For dairy or pareve food, students should bring their own utensils (plates, cutlery, coffee cups) from home, which they will keep in their personal lockers. It is also strongly recommended that you mark your utensils with your name! All utensils should be washed and put away immediately. There is no staff who does this.
  - 4) Meat-eaters: If you eat meat at Pardes, please use ONLY disposable cutlery and dishes. The sinks at Pardes are for washing dairy/pareve items only.
  - 5) There is a student microwave for dairy or pareve food. Do not heat up anything unless it is double-wrapped or in a sealed container which is kosher. Do not heat any meat in this microwave.
  - 6) There are refrigerators available for storing lunches. Please do not leave anything over the weekend – all items will be cleared out every Thursday afternoon.
  - 7) Any food put out on the hefker table (the table where the microwave sits) must be kosher. The hefker (ownerless) table is where you are invited to place food or other items available for anyone to take. Be careful not to leave items you intend to keep on this table!
- David Berman is the Catering Manager of the kitchen. No one is allowed to take anything from the kitchen unless: 1) it is for a Pardes function/activity, and 2) they have received explicit permission from David Berman.
  - Meir Schweiger is the halakhic (Jewish law) authority responsible for the kitchen and food policy. All questions should be addressed to him. If he is unavailable, then speak to a member of the kashrut committee, Zvi Hirschfield or Michael Hattin.
  - Breakfast (and plastic utensils) will be provided only for those students and faculty who participate in morning tefillot (prayer services) at Pardes. Do not help yourself unless you have come to tefilla. Those eating breakfast will clean up before classes begin.
  - Anyone that has special dietary needs or food allergies should speak to Chef David Berman.
  - Adjacent to the kitchen is a hot/cold water machine, a snack kiosk, a microwave oven and two refrigerators (against the wall in the dining room) for student use. Students pay 1 NIS per cup of coffee/tea. Note that the money box for the coffee/tea is NOT the same as the separate money box for kiosk items, sold privately by David Berman.
  - Students are responsible for keeping the eating area neat and clean: periodically emptying and cleaning the refrigerator, washing mugs, etc. Speak to David Berman with any questions.

Recycling

Bottles

We do recycle at Pardes – but not everything, only bottles that were emptied at Pardes, and paper! So please follow the guidelines below. Collection bins are near the kitchen.

- Empty drink containers which have a “30 agurot deposit” (pikadon) sign should be collected in the collection bin dedicated for this purpose.
- Do not bring in any bottles from home just for the purpose of recycling.
- If you want to recycle your bottles you emptied at home, put them directly into the green plastic bottle recycling “cages” located on the street. There is one right at the corner of Rivka and Pierre Koenig, and in every neighborhood. See here: <http://greenmap.org.il/places?nid=2&Catid=24&lang=en>
- Do not add any kind of trash to the recycling bins!

Paper

There is a bin at Pardes for recycling paper. It is located next to the photocopier in the office. The halakhic ruling followed at Pardes is that photocopies of religious texts may be recycled.

Infant Etiquette

Pardes strives to create a warm welcoming atmosphere for new parents and their infants. We have created a number of guidelines to ensure that the new parents and other Pardes students can continue to learn in a serious, productive manner. By doing so, we hope to create a balance between supporting new parents who would like to continue learning while still being close to their infants, and trying to ensure that the babies are not too much of a distraction to other students and staff. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.

Guidelines:

- Infants are permitted in the classroom if they are asleep or quiet. They are the parent's responsibility and may not be held or passed around by students. The moment they begin to make noise they should be removed from the classroom. Please do not jiggle and soothe your child in the class. Please also keep in mind that a happy, cute, gurgling baby can also be a distraction. The exact age at which it will no longer be possible to have an infant in the classroom without certain distraction is left to the discretion of the parent in consultation with the teacher, the latter of whom is the ultimate arbiter of the classroom. Please check in with your instructor to ensure a pleasant learning experience for all.
- Infants are permitted in the beit midrash if they are not disruptive—if they are asleep or quiet. The moment they begin to make noise, they should be removed from the beit midrash. If possible, please try to sit to the side near a door so that you can easily exit and enter as your baby needs.
- Nursing is permitted in the beit midrash if done discreetly, which means sitting to the side and being covered appropriately. Permission to nurse in the classroom is up to the discretion of each individual instructor, and in some cases you may be asked to leave the classroom to nurse. If you are unable to time your infant's feedings for outside of class time, please make sure to discuss the possibility of nursing with your teachers before the start of the class.

MEDICAL INSURANCE

Everyone attending Pardes must have valid medical insurance at all times.

Only students who submit proof of full hospitalization coverage may participate in extracurricular activities.

It is vital for your protection and required by Pardes that you have medical coverage during your stay here. Pardes has a working relationship with an insurance company called Egert and Cohen (Ask for our representative, Tzippy: Tel: 02-623-2546 / 02-622-7999 or email tzippy@egertcohen.co.il) Their plan called Harel costs about $1.30 per day and includes full hospitalization, visits to doctors and specialists, coverage for medicines, x-rays, laboratory tests and emergency dental treatment of up to $200 per year. Personal Effects Insurance is also available. Pardes students are not required to buy insurance from this company, it is simply convenient to do so. <https://www.egertcohen.co.il/health/Pardes.asp>

You should make sure that whatever coverage you currently have will continue for the first weeks after you arrive in Israel until you arrange coverage here. If you prefer to maintain hospitalization/major medical coverage through your home-based plan (Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Mass. Mutual, etc.), check that it will cover you in Israel and request written confirmation to that effect, a copy of which must be given to us.

Important: You can purchase an extra insurance package which covers pre-existing conditions and psychiatric hospitalization as an option. Ask Tzippy for information.

Filling prescriptions: To fill Harel prescriptions, go to the pharmacy on Lev Yaffe 9, Shai Agnon 20, or the Wolfson Pharmacy. You also may decide to pay out of pocket at Superfarm and submit the receipt to Egert and Cohen.

We suggest that you bring a supply of any particular medication (prescriptions or over-the-counter items) that you use, as you may not find exact equivalents in Israel. To get U.S. prescriptions filled in Israel you need to get a replacement prescription from an Israeli doctor. An extra pair of glasses or contact lenses is also a good idea. Additional information about medical insurance and health care will be provided at orientation.

- Personal Effects Insurance - Personal Effects Insurance covers all of your belongings during your stay in Israel. This is also available through Egert and Cohen. Pick up a form in the office.

Part II

JEWISH LIFE IN JERUSALEM

SHABBAT

One of the most powerful aspects of living in Israel for a significant amount of time is fully experiencing the rhythm of the Jewish calendar. In Israel, Jewish holidays have a public nature which will impact your experience of them.

The Israeli week is centered around Shabbat. Sunday, instead of being part of a weekend, is the first day of the week, with businesses (with the exception of some banks) and schools open regular hours.

For most businesses and schools, Friday is a half day. In some places, including Jerusalem, stores usually close three hours prior to Shabbat. Plan your shopping accordingly. Supermarkets are much more crowded on Thursdays and Friday mornings. On Fridays, bakeries sell fresh challot, flower stands pop up on street corners, and the atmosphere around the town is bit more rushed.

It can be frustrating not to have a “full weekend,” since if you observe Shabbat in the traditional sense you can feel that without a Sunday, you are missing a day to catch up on errands, travel, or to just watch television. But keep in mind that the yearly Jewish calendar, which includes a full week break for Sukkot and Hanukah and over two weeks for Pesach, gives you back a lot of the time you feel you lack on a weekly basis.

Orienting yourself to the Jewish rhythm of life and seasons is part of the challenge and reward of being in Israel for an extended period of time.

Sounds of Shabbat

In Jerusalem, there is a siren that sounds at candle lighting time. There is no reason to be alarmed the first time you hear it. The siren is a reminder that Shabbat is coming and there are only 18 minutes left to do final preparations and light candles (note that Jerusalem starts Shabbat earlier than the rest of the country – added holiness in the holy city).

Shabbat Hospitality and Customs

Shared Shabbat meals are an excellent way to get to know fellow students and your teachers. Joanne Barth in the office is available to help coordinate meals with faculty members and Pardes board members, particularly during holiday times.

It is generally acceptable to ask someone what they are doing for Shabbat and ask if you can join. It is acceptable to politely ask your host if you can bring a friend. And it's a good idea to tell your host about dietary restrictions and preferences. It's also okay to say no to meal invitations and stay home and rest on Shabbat.

Being a guest and having guests is an integral part of Shabbat. When you are a guest, it is customary to bring a small contribution to the meal – for example, a dessert or a bottle of wine. A host may ask you to bring something specific. Only bring flowers if you arrive on Friday afternoon before Shabbat, since a religious Jew cannot place flowers in water on Shabbat itself.

SYNAGOGUE GUIDE

This list is by no means exhaustive! There are many more synagogues around - almost one per block. If you enjoy a shul not on this list, be sure to let us know!

But first...a vocabulary guide

mehitza	partition, divider (between men and women)
siddur	prayer book
mahzor	high holiday prayer book
to daven	to pray
tefilla	prayer
minyan (minyanim - plural)	prayer group
shul	synagogue
drash (drashot - plural)	explanation, interpretation, also used to mean sermon
dvar torah	word of torah, sermon
Humash	Torah (in book form)
Carlebach-style	lots of singing

Note: Most Friday night services do not start at the same time every Friday night since Shabbat starts at a different time each week. Additionally, many shuls have a fixed summer time on Friday nights that is before nightfall. It's a good idea to check on times prior to Shabbat! Also note that on high holidays you should bring your own machzor (holiday prayer book).

Egalitarian

- Sod Siach (Traditional Egalitarian – essentially an Orthodox egalitarian minyan)
This Israeli minyan meets very Saturday morning at 9 am and hosts a one-monthly Friday night community dinner and davening. Ask to get on their mailing list:
sodsiach@gmail.com
www.facebook.com/SodSiach
- Tzion (Egalitarian with a Reconstructionist feel)
An Israeli, egalitarian, musical minyan. Shabbat davening is weekly on Fridays at 6 p.m. and monthly on Shabbat mornings at 9:15 a.m. For location and more information, email alaulavie@gmail.com
www.facebook.com/pages/156858487819125/ציון-קהילה-ארצישראלית

Reform

- Kol Haneshama
<http://www.kolhaneshama.org.il/eng/kolhaneshama>
This is a Reform synagogue, led by Rabbi Levi Kelman. Explanations are in Hebrew and in English. The minyan enjoys singing and includes many young Israelis. Services begin at 9:15 a.m. on Shabbat morning and at 6:00 p.m. on Friday night. It is located on Rehov Asher, in Baka (very close to Pardes). Hebrew Union College
This is a very friendly and welcoming Reform service. Services begin at 9:30 a.m. Shabbat morning. It is located on Rehov King David #13, next door to the King David Hotel.

Reconstructionist

- Mevakshei Derech
<http://www.mevakshei.org/>
This synagogue has a Reconstructionist philosophy, although no English is used. There is a mix of Israelis and English speakers, and it has a friendly reputation. Services begin Shabbat morning at 9:00 a.m. It is located on Rehov Shai Agnon 22, in the San Simon neighborhood.

Conservative

- Maayanot
www.maayanot.info
Kehillat Maayanot is an egalitarian, observant kehilla (community) affiliated with the Masorti Movement. There are approximately 80 families made up of Ashkenazim and Sephardim; singles, families, and seniors; native Israelis and olim (immigrants) from North and South America, France, England, Germany and Hungary. They meet at 9 a.m. on Shabbat mornings. It is located in the Arnona HaTzeira community center, 11 Israel Edad St. Check the website for updates or email office@maayanot.info
- Moreshet Yisrael
<http://www.moreshtyisrael.com/>
As close to an American Conservative service that can be found in Jerusalem, conducted using some English. Services begin at 8:30 a.m. on Shabbat morning. It is located on the corner of Rehov Agron and Keren HaYesod, next door to the Center for Conservative Judaism.
- Moreshet Avraham
<https://www.facebook.com/moreshetavraham/>
<http://www.masorti.org.il/kma>
This Conservative synagogue is in a beautiful building with a friendly congregation; many young people come with kids. They read the entire Torah reading on Shabbat morning. Services begin at 8:30 a.m. on Shabbat mornings. It is located on Rehov Adam 22 in East Talpiot.

Orthodox

- Shir Hadash
www.shirhadash.com
This is a Modern Orthodox shul (mehitza down the middle) with a rabbi. It is mostly attended by English-speakers. The minyan begins at 8:45 a.m. on Shabbat morning and 20 minutes after candle lighting on Friday night. All announcements and drashot are in English. This congregation meets in Ohel Nechama, Chopin Street #3.
- Yakar
www.yakar.org
This is an Orthodox shul with a rabbi. There is a lot of singing. There are two minyanim on Friday night - the downstairs minyan is longer. On Shabbat morning there is a Kiddush before the Torah service, with English and Hebrew learning sessions. It is attended by mostly English-speakers. Services start 15 minutes after candle lighting and begin at 8:30 a.m. on Shabbat morning. It is located on the corner of Rehov Kovshei Katamon and Rechov Lamed Hey in Katamon.
- Great Synagogue
www.jerusalemgreatsynagogue.com/EN
A popular tourist spot because it is so large and beautiful and sometimes attended by political figures. It is an Orthodox shul with separate seating (women in a very high balcony). Sometimes it features a choir. Services begin at 9:00 a.m. Shabbat morning. It is located on King George Street.
- Yemin Moshe
www.facebook.com/Beit-Yisrael-Yemin-Moshe
This is an Orthodox synagogue with both Israelis and English-speakers. Great Kiddush! Services begin at 8:30 a.m. on Shabbat morning. It is located on Pele Yoetz Street, at the bottom of Yemin Moshe; a beautiful location with a view of the Old City walls.
- Italian Synagogue
This is an Orthodox Italian Sephardic shul and is in a beautiful building. Women sit in the balcony. It is located on Rehov Hillel.

- Shtibalakh
<https://www.facebook.com/ShtiblachKatamon/>
This is an Orthodox house of prayer and study – much more than a synagogue. There is daily davening, with constant minyanim any time of day. It is located on Rehov Hakhish. (Note: there is both a men's and women's mikvah here.)
- Nitzanim
<http://www.knizanim.co.il/>
A quick, local davening option on Rechov Asher 3. Shabbat services at 8:30 a.m.
- Ramban
<http://ramban.org.il/english>
Rabbi Benny Lau's shul; a quick davening. Rechov Amatzia 4, close to Emek Refaim. Shabbat services at 8:30 a.m. No singing on Friday night.
- "The Late Minyan"
www.lateminyan.com
This is an Orthodox minyan, attended mostly by English-speakers. Services begin at 9:45 a.m. in the summer and 9:30 a.m. in the winter. Get there early or you won't get a seat! It is located on 4 Rehov Hashayarot, between Rehov Halamed Heh and HaPalmach.
- Kol Rina
<http://kolrinashul.org/>
The Nahla'ot Community Shul – Orthodox, Carlebach-style davening. There is a lot of singing and dancing. It is located in the miklat (bomb shelter) on Rehov Beersheva.
- Yedidya
<http://www.yedidya.org.il/>
This is a progressive Orthodox shul without a rabbi. There is a mehitza down the middle and women often give a dvar Torah, open and close the ark and carry the Torah through the women's section. A lot of English speakers attend, though the dvar Torah is given in Hebrew. Services begin at 8:30 a.m. on Shabbat morning, and five minutes after candle lighting on Friday night. On Shabbat afternoons, between mincha and maariv, there is an English shiur and snacks (for both men and women). It is located on Rehov Lifshitz in Baka, two minutes from Pardes.
- Mizmor LeDavid
www.mizmorleDavid.org
Mizmor LeDavid is located at the corners of Efrata, Giladi and Nahum Shadmi in Old Talpiot in the Payis building Shevet Lahavot. The congregation davens Nusah Sfard in Hasidic and Carlebach style and has a commitment to learning, warm welcome and spirited participation. There are a lot of young people here, and the Friday night services are very lively. The dvar Torah is given in Hebrew.

Halakhic Partnership Minyan

- Shira Hadasha (Also identifies as Orthodox)
www.shirahadasha.org.il
Shira Hadasha is a community committed to halakha, tefillah and feminism. There is inclusion of both men and women in leadership and ritual participation within the framework of halakhah. Women lead Kabbalat Shabbat, Pesukei de-Zimra, remove and replace the Sefer Torah to the Ark and participate in Torah reading. There is a mehitza down the middle, and lots of singing. Friday night services begin twenty minutes after candle-lighting time during the winter months and at 6:45 p.m. during Daylight Savings Time. Shabbat morning services begin at 8:30 a.m. It is located in the ICC building at 12 Emek Refaim (near Cremieux Street).

- Hakhel
<http://www.hakhel-shivyoni.org.il/english.html>
 Hakhel, also called Minyan Shivyoni Baka, strives for equal participation of both women and men in religious life within the boundaries of Halakha. Services are held in the gym of the matnas (community center) at 3 Zebulun St. (off Yehuda – there is a sign for the community center). The minyan has a very Israeli feel. Kabbalat Shabbat starts 30 minutes after candle lighting and morning services start at 9 a.m. Contact: minyanshiv@gmail.com

Renewal

- Nava Tehila
www.navatehila.org
 Nava Tehila - "beautiful praise"- is a prayer and study community in Jerusalem, under the guidance of Rabbi Ruth Gan Kagan (who has served as a Pardes faculty member). They welcome people of diverse backgrounds who wish to experience various expressions of spiritual life with a Jewish flavor. Nava Tehila meets monthly for Kabbalat Shabbat. See their website for more details.

Sephardic

- Degel Yehudah
<http://degelyehuda2014.wixsite.com/degelyehuda2014/form>
 Probably the most "Pardes Appropriate/Friendly" minyan is Degel Yehuda. They are an egalitarian Sephardi minyan that uses a lot of Moroccan tunes. They do not have a synagogue of their own and so every Friday night they meet in someone's home for Erev Shabbat service. Many of the community members speak English and will engage with you if you speak English to them. Most of their information such as times and events are sent out via Facebook groups and e-mail groups. To sign up for information, use the link above.
- Torah V'Chesed
 The closest Sephardi Synagogue to Pardes is Torah v'Chesed. They are a Tunisian synagogue and Beit Midrash which means their two operating languages are French and Hebrew. During the week they have Shacharit at 8 am. They are at the corner of Rivka and Yad Harutzim. An address you can use for them is: Yad Harutzim St. 2, Jerusalem, Israel
- Qol Shaddai
 A friendly Moroccan synagogue can be found in Baka. The Rabbi there (named Rabbi Kadosh) is very friendly and does his best to speak English with guests from Pardes. But in general, Hebrew and French are their operating Languages. Their address is Shimshon 10. Shabbat morning services are at 7:45 am and in general they do not have kiddush after services.

Part III

TIPS FOR LIVING IN JERUSALEM

GENERAL SAFETY

- Police -- 100
- Ambulance -- 101
- Fire -- 102

Taxis: When you hail a taxi, use the Gett Taxi app or, at the very least, note the cab company's sign right away (in the front windshield). You should only enter a cab that is associated with a company. Masa students: You are permitted to ride only in cabs associated with Israeli companies (yellow license plates) and not cabs in the Palestinian Authority (green license plates).

Drivers may offer you a set rate, but note that it is law for taxis to put on the meter (moneh), and you have the right to insist on this. It's okay to accept a fixed rate for travel between cities. In general, you are advised to sit in the back seat of the cab. (See p.39 for more on taxis.)

Be careful when exiting Pardes! The area right outside of Pardes's front door is a driveway, not a sidewalk. Cars and trucks drive in this area, often very quickly. Exit with caution.

Road Safety: There are a disproportionately high number of traffic accidents in Israel, including pedestrian and bicyclist deaths. Take special, special caution when driving in Israel, riding a bike or crossing the street. Do not jaywalk. Never cross against the light – often there will be turning cars you don't see. Cars don't always stop or slow down at pedestrian crosswalks. Be especially careful when crossing the bus lanes on Derech Hevron as it is not always clear from which direction the buses come.

Crime: Crime does exist in Israel. Though the rate of violent crime in Jerusalem is relatively low, theft is common. Do not leave your valuables, including your cell phone, laptop and book bag out in public even for a second. It is important to keep your apartment door locked at all times, even when you are there. It has happened that belongings were quietly stolen out of an apartment when the student was home! Tip: make copies of important documents.

When walking around the city, be aware of your surroundings. Be especially alert when in a crowded area or walking alone. If you see someone hanging around Pardes that you do not think belongs, please report it to someone in the office ASAP. Never let people in the building if you don't recognize them. If you feel uncomfortable about opening the door, press the door bell and tell the person who answers.

Do not give out the Pardes door code to anyone who is not a student at Pardes. If you are expecting a visitor, have the person either buzz or call you to open the door.

Hitchhiking: Although many Israelis hitchhike, this is not recommended. It is not worth the risk. Masa students are prohibited by Masa guidelines from hitchhiking.

Dehydration: Dehydration is very common among tourists and visiting students in Israel. Even when you are not out hiking, you should be careful to drink more water than you normally would at home. You should drink enough throughout the day to never feel thirsty. Sunscreen, a water bottle and a hat are always good ideas.

Hiking: Be careful to check weather reports before you hike – especially during or near the rainy season (approximately November-May). Roads and trails can be washed out by floods very quickly. Stick only to marked trails. Always take a map (some are available from Pardes). Also, it's a good idea to check with the SPNI (the Society for the Protection of Nature in Israel – Haganat HaTeva) to determine whether there are security alerts for the area in which you plan to hike: www.natureisrael.org

SECURITY

Pardes students are required to obey Israeli law. Pardes will make a best effort to inform you of any special security information.

At the time of the writing of this guide, it is illegal for Israeli citizens to travel to areas under Palestinian Authority political and security control, commonly referred to as Area A, as well as the Gaza Strip. Although these travel restrictions do not apply to students who are not Israeli citizens, please note that these areas are beyond the jurisdiction of the Government of Israel. Additionally, health insurance purchased in Israel does not cover you when you are in PA territory (though tourists can purchase, upon request, special insurance for these areas). Should you enter these areas with another program, it is your responsibility to make sure you have proper insurance.

Before traveling, it is a good idea to check your country's travel warnings and restrictions. For US citizens in Israel, local warnings are posted here.

Masa students: Masa students are forbidden from entering Areas A & B in the West Bank either as individuals or with an organized group. If Masa students visit Area C in the West Bank (Jewish towns) they are required to inform a Pardes staff member in advance. Additionally, Masa students are permitted to ride only in cabs associated with Israeli companies (yellow license plates) and not cabs in the Palestinian Authority (green or white license plates).

Should you have any questions as to the status of a particular place you would like to visit, feel free to consult with your teachers or the Pardes administration.

US students can seek the travel advice of the US Bureau of Consular Affairs. US students also have the option of registering their stay abroad with the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP) at <http://step.state.gov/step/>. STEP allows you to enter information about your upcoming trip abroad so that the Department of State can better assist you in an emergency. STEP also allows Americans residing abroad to get routine information from the nearest US embassy or consulate.

At the beginning of the year, each student will receive an emergency contact list which assigns groups of students to a faculty member. In case of a terrorist attack (pigua in Hebrew) or similar emergency in Jerusalem, every student must call his or her assigned faculty member immediately to let the faculty member know they are okay. Pardes also has a SMS system in place, by which you are alerted that there has been an attack.

As part of ensuring everyone's safety, most public buildings have metal detectors and security at the entrances. Unzip your bag and put it down on the table in front of the security personnel for them to briefly check, walk through the metal detector, and then take your bag. If someone asks you "Yesh neshek?" they are asking if you have a gun.

In addition, do not leave bags or any items lying around in public spaces. They immediately become "suspicious", and the authorities will be called.

MEDICAL INFORMATION

For a Doctor's Appointment

Wolfson Medical Center is a large facility with many different types of doctors and specialists. It is located in Rechavia on Rechov Diskin: 02-561-0297. Many of the doctors at Wolfson speak English, and they accept the Egert and Cohen insurance plan, "Harel." If you have another insurance company, you might have to pay full price at the doctor's office and then submit a claim to your insurance company for reimbursement.

The Clinic on Hagedud Haivri 4 (off of Hapalmach St. in Katamon) is a much smaller office, but also offers a few English-speaking doctors and they also accept the Harel insurance plan. The clinic has "walk-in" hours from 8:00 a.m.-9:00 a.m. To make an appointment, call 02-561-2139. Hours: Sunday-Thursday, 8:00 a.m.-7:00 p.m.; Friday, 8:00 a.m.-noon.

Dr. Harrow and Dr. Mahnaim have an office located on Yad Harutzim in the mall. Both doctors speak English and take Harel insurance. Phone: 02-672-5696.

Urgent Care

- Terem Emergency Clinic is at the corner of Rehov Beitar and Yanovski, about a 10 minute walk from Pardes (Turn off Derech Hevron on Rechov Yanovski, next to the large Hollandia furniture showroom). The phone number is 02-673-8550. Hours: 9:00 a.m. – midnight every day.
- There is a 24-hour Terem Clinic on Rechov Sarei Yisrael 15. The phone number is 02-652-1748.

Emergencies

Call 101 for an ambulance or head to the nearest hospital which may be Shaare Zedek, Hadassah, or Bikkur Cholim (now part of Shaare Zedek).

Special medical issues

For students on the Egert and Cohen plan: any medical problem over and above the regular doctor visit should be referred to Leon 02-623-2546 (ext.115)
Leon deals with the setting up of specialist appointments, blood tests, etc. He also responds to mail promptly info@egertcohen.co.il

What to Expect at the Doctor

Students often express surprise after their first doctor's appointment in Israel. Appointments are generally very short and sometimes even scheduled as close together as every ten minutes. Come ready with your questions and advocate for yourself. The quality of doctors in Israel is generally very good; do not let the nature of the appointment discourage you.

Dentist

Dr. Ari Greenspan is a US-trained dentist and a long-time friend of Pardes. He offers a 5% discount for Pardes students. His office is located on Derech Hevron Street, not far from Pardes. 02-679-8040, ari@greenspandental.com

Dr. Stephen Kurer is a Pardes alumnus. His clinic is called KKJ and is on Keren Hayesod. 02-625-0870

Eye doctors, glasses

Dr. Avi Auerbach takes the Harel insurance plan: 02-563-8728
You can make an appointment to see an eye doctor privately at the Gdud Halvri clinic. You can usually get an appointment privately quite quickly but the cost is 500 NIS in cash.

Glasses:

- Optica Menny - 32 Emek Refaim, 02-563-2135
- "Optican" on the corner of Emek Refaim and Rachel Imenu with a branch also on HaPalmach
- Optica Halperin on Emek Refaim or on HaTenufa St. in Talpiot

Anonymous HIV/AIDS Testing in Jerusalem

The Open Clinic is located within the Jerusalem Open House for Pride and Tolerance (www.joh.org.il) at 2 HaSoreg St., 1st floor (at the intersection of Jaffa St. and Shlomzion HaMalcha St. in the city center). Phone: 02-6250502. You are asked to donate 50 NIS to cover the cost of your test so that the clinic can provide free HIV/AIDS tests to those in need.

Filling prescriptions: To fill Harel prescriptions, go to the pharmacy on Lev Yaffe 9, Shai Agnon 20, or the Wolfson Pharmacy. You also may decide to pay out of pocket at Superfarm and submit the receipt to Egert and Cohen.

We suggest that you bring a supply of any particular medication (prescriptions or over-the-counter items) that you use, as you may not find exact equivalents in Israel. To get U.S. prescriptions filled in Israel you need to get a replacement prescription from an Israeli doctor.

CONSULATES/EMBASSIES

APARTMENTS

Pardes offers apartment-hunting advice and a list of resources, emailed to students upon their acceptance at Pardes. A hard copy of these documents can be obtained in the office. We can also provide a list of vacation apartments, suitable for visiting family and friends. See <http://www.pardes.org.il/housing-help> for more information.

Arnona Discount

Some students are successful at obtaining a needs-based discount on arnona, the taxes you pay to the Israeli government for renting or owning an apartment. The percentage discount for students varies from year to year, and is based on many conditions.

A list of helpful guidelines is available from Joanne in the office. Make sure you see Joanne at least two weeks before you plan on visiting the municipality building to request the discount.

It is important to note that you will need to bring proof of your income from October, November, and December of 2017. A W2 form is acceptable.

PERSONAL FINANCES

You should make sure that you have access to at least $1000 upon arrival (in travelers' checks or through a credit card/debit card) for use until you make your bank arrangements. Please note that despite the effort here to estimate expenses in both dollars and shekels, the exchange rate fluctuates.

Tuition at Pardes covers classes as well as extracurricular activities such as Shabbat programs, tours and special seminars. It does not cover minor registration fees for special activities, housing, medical insurance, books, Hebrew ulpan fees or other living expenses such as food and utilities. As a guideline, students who plan on living with roommates should budget approximately $500 - $700 (1900-2500 NIS, approximately) per month for rent, not including bills. Students who plan on living alone should expect to pay at least $1000 per month (approximately 3860 NIS). Living expenses vary depending on students' lifestyles.

Projected expenses for a 10-month period in Israel are estimated at $10,000-$15,000 in addition to tuition. This figure is based on estimates for a round-trip flight from North America, rent (with roommates), Hebrew ulpan, medical insurance, books, bills, food, registration fees for Pardes trips and miscellaneous expenses.

Paying your bills

Water, electricity, gas and telephone bills usually come every two months. You can pay them at any post office by cash or Israeli check, or online or by phone with a credit card. You are also able to pay bills at the bank, directly from your account for a fee.

If you have gas tanks (which is the case in most of the older apartments), when your tanks are empty you must re-order directly from the company serving your apartment. Find out from your landlord which gas company supplies the apartment (either Paz Gas, Supergas, or Amisragas) and what the account number is. Be warned: you usually don't know your tank is empty until you turn on the stove and nothing happens. If you start with two full tanks, you should replace each one as it empties to prevent unpleasant surprises.

BANKING

You will need to decide whether to open a bank account in Israel. You can withdraw cash (for a fee) from ATM machines (but note that not all American ATM cards work at all banks). Rent and bills can often be paid in cash and foreign credit cards can be used almost everywhere (although with some cards you are charged an extra fee by the credit card company for a foreign transaction). Before you leave for Israel, it is a good idea to alert your credit card company that you will be using it abroad so the company does not block foreign charges.

Student tips:

- A Schwab Brokerage account with checking allows you an ATM card with no ATM fees, no transaction fees and no exchange rate fees. You have to open this account in the U.S.
- If you or someone in your family was in the US Army, you may qualify for USAA banking and may get an ATM card with no fees. See www.usaa.com for more information.
- With a Capital One credit card (and some others) there are no fees for foreign transactions (but good to ask what exchange rate the company uses!).

If you receive financial aid stipends from Pardes, you are encouraged to open an Israeli bank account and your monthly stipend will be directly deposited into your account. Students without an account will receive stipend payments by check which can be cashed only at Pardes's bank, "UBank," located on Keren HaYesod Street. This bank is open until 2 p.m. (except Fridays, when it closes earlier).

Sometimes, banks will allow foreigners to open accounts only at the bank's main branch. This situation is in flux, and to open an account students may need to check with a few banks and/or branches. Check with your fellow students (particularly second and third year students) as to which banks they recommend.

Here is a list of some of the main banks in the area (note that Pardes does not endorse any particular bank):

- Bank Leumi –
Main Branch: 22 King George St.
Local branches:
103 Derech Hevron - in the Beit HaNetziv building near the corner of Ein Gedi Street;
20 Shai Agron St.
- Bank HaPoalim –
Main Branch: 16 King George St.
Local branch: 101 Derech Hevron, corner Yanofsky St , next to the big "Hollandia" building
- First International Bank of Israel
Main Branch: 10 Hillel St.
Local branch: 10 Derech Hevron, corner of Rivka St.

When opening a bank account, come prepared with a letter from Pardes attesting to the fact that you are a student (see Donna, the registrar) and sign-up for internet access to your account (you will receive a password) so you can easily check if money has been deposited.

If for some reason you are not successful in opening a bank account, speak to the registrar.

Bank hours can be very erratic and vary from bank to bank; make sure you check the hours. Another note about banks--you are usually charged by transaction, so don't be surprised if you can't keep exact track of your balance. Banks charge you for everything, withdrawing their fees directly from your account. With a student account, many of these fees are avoided. Beware that if you transfer money from your bank account abroad to your Israeli bank account, both banks will charge a fee – your Israeli bank will, in fact, charge two fees: one for the transfer and one to change the foreign currency into Israeli shekels. Finally, note that if you want an ATM card that also functions as a debit card be sure to specify this. If not, they may just give you an ATM card.

The Post Office Bank

The “Bank HaDo’ar” is another banking option which a couple of students tried in 2016-17. If you wish to open an account at the post office, we recommend going to the downtown post office branch (as opposed to Emek Refaim nearby), where more people speak English. Bring with you: Your passport, color copy of your passport, 50 NIS to open the account, your visa (student or tourist) a patient and good attitude. You can make an appointment online. Note: the debit card they give you is only valid for six months. The best way to renew the card is to message them on their facebook page. Read more here. For more information about this option, speak to current Pardes student, Dammara Hall.

Changing Money

The closest place to change money is across the street at the Hadar Mall. There are 2 more money changing establishments in the Emek Refaim area. There is also a change place in the “Achim Yisrael” Mall on Yad Harutzim St. about a 5 minute walk from Pardes. Post offices change money and don’t charge commission.

ATMs

The closest one is across the street from Pardes, outside of the Hadar Mall.

FOOD SHOPPING

The Shuk (Mahaneh Yehuda)

Shopping in the shuk (open-air market) in downtown Jerusalem is quite a cultural experience. Fruits and vegetables are the freshest and cheapest there. The shuk also features a range of fresh breads, pastries, meats, and house wares. Food is sold by the weight and bargaining is no longer commonplace. Walk around and compare prices. The Iraqi section tends to be cheaper. You can try to make friends with the vendors by frequenting the same stands; it makes going to the shuk an exciting and fun cultural exchange.

The shuk is generally open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and later on Thursdays. It takes on a whole new persona at night. Bars and restaurants open, and the shuk is a popular place on Thursday nights in particular. Fridays are very busy there, so go early. Note that it closes one hour before Shabbat.

If you keep kosher, be aware that even fruit and vegetables grown in Israel need a kosher certificate (teudat kashrut) which certifies that a certain percentage of the produce has been tithed. In a shmitta year and in the first part of the year following shmitta, the kosher certificate will also indicate the category of produce (heter mechira, kedushat shvi'it).

Supermarkets

Almost every supermarket delivers groceries for an extra charge--ask for "mishloach" (delivery). Also know that grocery store carts require a 5 NIS coin (which you get back upon returning the cart). An American quarter works as well. It is normal to bag your own groceries. Most supermarkets have a membership card that will give you discounts. You may need to present your passport to get the card. Bring your own reusable bags when you shop. Plastic bags incur a small fee.

- Osher Ad
A large supermarket on the bottom floor of the Hadar mall, across the street from Pardes. They carry some Costco products and are known to be cheap. This supermarket has the most American feel in the area. No delivery.
- Sufersol Deal
On Pierre Koenig street, right next to Pardes. There is also one with a fresh fish counter down by the old railroad tracks/bike trail in the Lev Talpiot Mall.
- Mr. Zol
HaPalmach Street
- Co-op Shop
42 HaPalmach Street - on the pricier side, nice cheese counter.
- Super HaMoshava
The supermarket on Emek Refaim might be convenient, but it is usually more expensive than other supermarkets (especially the produce). If you are looking for specific American products, they are often here.
- Rami Levi
Located in the Achim Yisrael Mall and also just off the old railroad tracks/bike trail – known to be cheap.
- Super Deal
At the Corner of Rivka St. and Derech Beit Lechem. A bit pricey (although cheaper than Super Moshava) but convenient, and lots of familiar products and great service.

- Zmora Organi
This is a great health food store (with organic produce) on Yad Haruzim, a five-minute walk from Pardes. There is another branch on Asa St. (small street off of Emek Refaim, near the Ramban shul). This store often has better prices than the Anise chain.
- Duvduvon Health Food Store – on Emek Refaim. Also on Agrippas near the shuk.
- Teva Castel – Health food store located at First Station (at the far end of Emek Refaim). This is a large store with good prices.
- 24 Hour Stores – One on Emek Refaim and one on Derech Hevron (near Ein Gedi St.)

RESTAURANTS

Kashrut

Not all restaurants in Jerusalem (or Israel) are kosher. Kashrut certificates should be prominently displayed in kosher restaurants. There is a small but growing movement of alternative kashrut certification driven by dedicated volunteers called “Hashgachat Pratit.” Note that a 15% tip is customary and not included in the bill and if you want to put this on your credit card you need to ask the wait staff in advance of paying the bill. Note not all restaurants will accept a tip this way so best to bring some cash for this purpose.

Extra cost

Note that a small security fee is usually automatically added to the bill at any restaurant with a guard.

Closest to Pardes

During your lunch break, you don't have much time! Luckily, there are plenty of quality eateries within a five minute walk. There's also a supermarket next door.

- Falafel Chen – Right across the street from Pardes, on the corner.
- Falafel Dal Caloriot – On Pierre Koenig, across from Hadar Mall.
- Hadar Mall – Gingi boasts some of the best shipudim (meat skewers) in town! For vegetarian fare, Waffle Bar (2nd floor), Aroma, Café Ne'eman, Greg (2nd floor), and Roladin offer salads and sandwiches. Chooka, BurgerRanch, Zucca and others are available in the mall's food court. New! Located at the front of the mall on the ground floor, the new Hadar Market includes such favorite restaurants as Burgers Bar, Fish and Chips, Matilda Ice Cream, Tiras Market, Hasalatia, and more.
- Borekas Ima – A one minute walk up Rivka St. with coffee, borekas cakes, cookies, sandwiches, breads, and quiches.
- English Cake – A one minute walk up Rivka St. with a full selection of baked goods, coffee and sandwiches.

Also in the Area

- Emek Refaim—Emek Refaim Street is a trendy place to be. It's a short walk from Baka, Katamon and Talpiot. You'll find fun shops, boutiques, and you'll eat well. Most, but not all, of the restaurants on "Emek" are kosher.
- The Coffee Mill
If you are looking for American-style brewed coffee, the only place is The Coffee Mill, located next to Bank Discount on the end of Emek Refaim farthest from Pardes.
- Derech Beit Lechem
This street is also full of restaurants, coffee shops, and boutiques.
- Mamilla Mall
This outdoor shopping plaza is next to Jaffa Gate and the Mamilla hotel. There are many restaurants and most are wheelchair accessible.
- The “First Station” (the old train station)
Kosher and non-kosher restaurant options. Several of the non-kosher restaurants are open on Shabbat.

For more suggestions of where to eat in Jerusalem, check out www.eluna.com for listings of kosher restaurants in Jerusalem and coupons for 10% off meals.

SERVICES AROUND TOWN

(Pardes takes no responsibility for the price or quality of any product or service listed here. All the information has been checked but may change at any time.)

Note: 17% tax (also known as “VAT,” or value added tax) is included in the prices of most items. Tourists (who are in the country less than three months) are entitled to receive this tax back at the airport on large purchases at certain stores, but you must request a special receipt for this purpose at the time of purchase (you cannot get tax back on items left in the country).

Therapists

If you feel your need professional help, turn to your faculty adviser (a faculty member assigned to check in with you regularly). This person is a resource of support for you and can refer you to a professional.

The Association for Americans and Canadians in Israel (AACI - a very useful organization which you can join at a student rate, located next door to Pardes), has a help hotline that you can call daily between the hours of 12:15 pm – 1:15 pm: 02-561-7151

Pharmacy

The closest drug store/pharmacy is SuperPharm, located across the street in the Hadar Mall. Besides medications, you can buy everything—shampoo, soap, make-up, perfume, toilet paper, batteries, etc. Tel. 077-888-0950, Fax 077-888-0951

Dry Cleaners/Laundry

- At the intersection of Rachel Imanu and Emek Refaim
- On Derech Hevron and Yehuda Street – next to “Little House in Baka”
- On floor “-1” of the Hadar Mall across from Pardes
- “Machveset Shammai,” at Ben Zakkai 7
- Eyal dry cleaners at the traffic circle where Rachel Imanu, Hizkiyahu Hamelech, Elaazar HaModai, and Kovshei Katamon streets intersect
- On HaPalmach Street next to the bakery
- “Superclean” coin laundry + dry cleaner – located on HaPalmach Street near the intersecting street “HaGdud Halvri.” English-speaking owners.

Stationery and Office Supplies

“Hanan” is across the street in the Hadar Mall. Here you can send faxes and make copies. “Speedio” is also close by, on Poalei Tzedek Street, in the same building as AACI (ground floor). You can print color copies here.

Waxing/Manicure/Pedicure

- Aqua – one floor down in the Hadar Mall
- Aviva does waxing, makeup, manicure, pedicures and reiki: avivabelfer@gmail.com

Wireless Access

All of Pardes has wireless access, so if you have a computer (there is also one desktop computer available for student use), you can use the internet here.

All of downtown Jerusalem, Hadar Mall and much of Emek Refaim has wifi.

Internet

When researching your options, be sure to check on the disconnection policy (in case there is a contract).

There are two parts to internet service, and you will, therefore, have two charges:

1. The infrastructure provider. This may already be arranged in your apartment – check with your landlord. The only two possible providers are Bezeq or HOT.
2. The ISP provider could be a range of companies: Bezeq Int., Netvision, 012 Smile and many more.

Computer & Smart-phone Help and/or Training

Pardes alumnus Craig Preston, a seasoned computer consultant, is available to set up your computer and smart-phone with a local internet provider, install internet phones and PC software, get your printer working, for computer & smart-phone maintenance and one-on-one computer training: 052-348-6117 / 02-672-0078, craig@preston-consulting.com.

Hardware, Electronics and Housewares

- All electrical appliances used in Israel require 220V (same as Europe). If you don't have the correct adapters for your appliances/computer you can buy transformers at ElectroSiil. It is on Pierre Koenig on the block after Sufersol Deal supermarket, next to the mattress store. ElectroSiil is a large hardware store with reasonable prices. The downstairs has tools and hardware, while the upstairs has housewares.
- Machsanei Hashmal is an appliance and computer store down the street from Pardes, near the corner of Pierre Koenig and Rivka.
- BUG at the Hadar mall – not far from Café Neeman

The News

- The two major English language papers are The International Herald Tribune with the English edition of the Israeli Ha'aretz paper inside and The Jerusalem Post. The Friday paper in Israel is like the Sunday paper in the United States - much bigger with extra sections and city calendars.
- You can easily access up-to-date news online:

- An easy Hebrew newspaper is available at: <http://www.jpost.com/lvrit/Home.aspx>
- The Jerusalem Report is a biweekly magazine with interesting articles on Israel and the Jewish world. Call *2423 to order.

- Of course, there are Hebrew papers as well and you may want to challenge yourself by reading them. Yisrael HaYom is a free daily paper. Look for the distributors standing on street corners and in front of the Hadar Mall. They are dressed in red.
- A great news source you should know about (not related to any of the above): www.happynews.com. Positive news from around the world.

Post Office

www.postil.com

There are three post office branches close to Pardes. Always check hours of operation (which vary from branch to branch).

- Emek Refaim and Masaryk
- 59 Derech Beit Lechem, corner of Ben Yefuneh Street (near Yehuda)
- In the Achim Yisrael Mall on the corner of Yad Harutzim and HaTnufa

When receiving a package slip, the stamp on the slip will direct you to the post office where your package is being held. Remember to bring ID with you. Please note that if you ship new items from abroad (apparent from the packaging) your package may be subject to a customs charge.

Zip code: To determine your zip code, go to:

www.israelpost.co.il/zipcode.nsf/demozip?openform

Where are the mail boxes? For outgoing mail, you can leave letters at the front office at Pardes or deposit into the red mail box which is outside the Hadar Mall (left-hand entrance).

Mikvah (small pool for ritual purposes)

There is a cost for dipping your body in the mikvah but dishes are free.

Dishes:

In Katamon, there is a dishes mikvah behind the Shtiblach shul.

In Baka: Corner of Rechov Shimon and Yissachar, attached to a Moroccan shul.

<http://mikvah.org/Directory/index.asp> is a global mikvah directory.

Women's mikvah:

On the top of Gidon, towards Derech Beit Lechem (this is a "no frills" mikvah but it was recently renovated). It's past the basketball court, across the street from two new municipal kindergartens. There is also one in Katamon, in the "Shtiblach" building on HaHish Street (entrance on the side of the building).

Recommended: There is a new mikvah (next to a new shul) in the Arnona HaTzeira neighborhood, next to the tayelet (just a few minutes past Terem). There is also a newly renovated mikvah on Ha'ari St. in Rechavia (corner of Ha'ari and Azza).

For the women who live near the city center, all recommend the Rand mikveh, 8 Hanetziv Street, 02-625-5560. The mikvah is newly renovated and modern. It is off Betzalel Street, across from the Gerard Behar Community Center. A cab can turn into Hanetziv St., and the mikvah is located on the right behind a barrier, just where the road begins to veer to the left.

Men's mikvah:

In Arnona, a men's mikvah is available at 15 Yitzhak Ben Dor. It opens 30 minutes before shki'a. A mikvah for dishes is also there. Call 02-625-5404 for more information.

RECYCLING

You will notice big green cages for recycling on many street corners. The older large green cages are for plastic bottles only; newer colorful cages have sections for batteries, plastic bags and CDs/DVDs. In addition, there is a bottle hok hapikadon (deposit law). Most small bottles (glass, plastic, cans) can be returned to the supermarket (and some smaller markets as well) for a 30 agurot return per bottle. Just check that the bottles are marked pikadon.

For paper recycling, look for big circular green trash can-like structures on the sidewalk - with a thin opening through which to deposit your papers.

There is a recycling center in Givat Shaul opposite Herzog Hospital. You can recycle cans, jars, cartons, glass, cooking oil, books, clothing, electronic and organic trash and more. Hours are Sunday - Thursday 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. and Friday 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

Additional Note:

For a listing of environmental activities and information, see the green map of Jerusalem:

The RAV KAV (BUS/RAIL CARD)

Public transportation - buses and the light rail – is based on a personalized RAV KAV card, that can be obtained by presenting any pictured identification (for non-Israelis, this means a passport) and filling out a short form. It does not cost anything, can be "loaded" (explanation below), and is good for transfers between city buses and the light rail for an hour and a half (in any direction). If you do not get a RAV KAV card, you must pay individually for single tickets for every ride before you get on the bus (these single tickets do not allow you a free transfer, so if you need two buses or a bus and a train to get to your destination, you would pay the full price twice). A single ride costs NIS 5.90 (both bus and train).

An anonymous Rav Kav card can also be purchased (without presenting a picture ID). However, an anonymous card, if lost, is not replaceable. A card with photo is replaceable – you will get back any money you previously put on the card when you get a new card (as long as someone else didn't use your lost card in the meantime).

Complete information about this system (English option at top left of the screen) is at

<http://www.trans-reform.org.il/Charge.aspx>

Where to obtain the personalized RAV KAV:

Across the street at the Hadar mall – take the escalator one floor down. Hours are S-Th, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Fridays 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. If you live closer to downtown, go to the Klal building, 97 Yaffo Road. Coming from Pardes, at the corner of King George and Yaffo, turn left onto Yaffo (towards the Machane Yehuda Shuk). It is on the ground floor. You can also obtain a RAV KAV at the Central Bus Station.

Loading the RAV KAV:

Hofshi Hodshi - You can load the card for an entire month, starting on any date. This allows you unlimited rides within Jerusalem on the bus or on the light rail. At the moment this costs NIS 213, which isn't worth it if you don't use the bus very often. Note: The student discount does not apply to Pardes students.

General loading of card - There is no longer an option to load a certain number of rides onto a Rav Kav card. Instead, you load a certain amount of money and get a bit more value of the money. 50 NIS is the minimum amount you can load onto a card (and you get the value of 62.50 NIS).

You must buy a ticket or load your Rav Kav card for the light rail or bus before boarding. There are Rav Kav loading stations around Jerusalem, including one very close to Pardes at the bus stop across from the Hadar mall on our side of the street. The Cofix coffee store chain is also a location to load your card around the city, along with various ATM machines. Additionally, if you have an android phone, you can download the Rav Kav app and enjoy the convenience of loading up your card whenever needed. All light rail stations have automatic machines to purchase single tickets or to load the RAV KAV cards. Instructions are in Hebrew at most stations, but usually there are friendly people around to help. Individual paper light rail tickets are only valid for the same day, so you can't buy a quantity and save them for future use, and do not include transfer to a bus.

For a map of charging locations, click here: <http://www.trans-reform.org.il/Charge.aspx>

You will find three helpful buttons on the bottom of the page. The first, on the right features a map that when you click on your area, the charging stations are listed with addresses on the right. The second features information on charging through an app on your smartphone and the third an option through your computer.

When boarding the bus or train you must validate the card by holding it up against one of the machines. Single tickets on the light rail must also be validated at the machines on the train by inserting them into the slot on top, arrow pointing down. If you've done it correctly, the ticket will come back out stamped, so you (and inspectors) will know when your 90 minutes are up. Make sure you hold on to your ticket for ticket inspectors!

Transfers

Transfers are only possible with a RAV KAV card and include both bus and light rail rides. You can use each "ride" for up to 90 minutes from the first time you get on the bus or light rail - i.e., if you get on the next bus or light rail 89 1/2 minutes after you got on the first ride, you're OK, even if the ride takes longer than that. You can take as many rides as you want within the 90 minutes on the same ticket - even do a quick errand and get back on the same bus in the opposite direction.

If you loaded the Rav Kav for Jerusalem, it cannot be used in other cities automatically. The card can be loaded to hold ride options for other cities, up to 8 different programs.

To Pardes by bus

Egged is the bus company in Jerusalem and most buses operate from 5:30 a.m. to about midnight, depending on the line. They do not run on Shabbat or holidays and stop about an hour before Shabbat starts. Phone: *2800, <http://www.egged.co.il/Eng/>. Use the website's "Plan a Trip" function which is also available on the mobile version since the bus lines sometimes change.

The 10, 15, 34, 34A and 49 come directly to Pierre Koenig Street.

Get off at the first stop after the "Delek Oranim" gas station which is at the intersection of Emek Refaim, Ben Zakkai, Elazar Hamoda'i and Pierre Koenig (get used to the same street changing names along the way!) and continue walking in the same direction on Pierre Koenig that the bus was travelling until the traffic light. Diagonally across the street is No. 29. We are in the same building as the camping goods store called Ricochet with the bright green sign.

You could also continue to the next bus stop at Kanyon Hadar (Hadar Mall), and walk back to the intersection with Rivka and cross the street.

The 77 and 77A buses travel along Emek Refaim. Get off at the last stop on Emek Refaim before the street changes its name to Ben Zakai (ask the bus driver; it is the last stop before Pierre Koenig). Walk to Pierre Koenig and turn left (if you turn right, the street will be called Elazar HaModa'i). Walk two blocks to the traffic light at the corner of Ben Dov and Pierre Koenig (across the street Ben Dov becomes Rivka). We are on the corner of Rivka and Pierre Koenig in the same building as the camping goods store called Ricochet with the bright green sign.

The 14 bus also comes from the Central Bus Station (as does the 15), via Talbieh (Tchernikovskiy, Palmach St. area). Get off at the last stop on Emek Refaim and continue as for the 77.

The 30, 71, 72, 74, and 75 buses come from the center of town. They are fast and travel along Derech Hevron. Get off at the Rivka stop, also called Tzomet HaBankim (the Banks Junction). Turn right and walk down the hill on Rivka, past Derech Beit Lechem (intersection with the traffic light) and past Yad Harutzim St. Pierre Koenig is at the bottom of the hill. We are on the corner of Rivka and Pierre Koenig in the same building as the camping goods store called Ricochet with the bright green sign.

Once you find the building, follow the Pardes signs into the lane on the left of the Ricochet store.

Late night buses, on Thursday and Saturday nights only, are the 102 and 106 which run 12:30 a.m.-3:00 a.m., every half hour, and run back and forth between Emek Refaim and the center of town.

Light Rail

Unfortunately, the light rail does not run to Pardes or surrounding neighborhoods. The only line of the light rail operating at the moment starts at Mt. Herzl, winds its way through the Central Bus Station, through the shuk, through downtown on Jaffa Road, skirts the Old City Walls and out to Pisgat Ze'ev in the north of the city. The transfer point for Pardes is at the "Yafo Merkaz" station at the corner of Yafo and King George, where you can transfer to the 34 and 34A bus lines to Pierre Koenig, or the 70s buses to Derech Hevron.

Taxis/Sherut

Book a taxi online with www.gettaxi.co.il – or for more convenience, download the app. Note you get 100 NIS off your next rides when you download the app. This is also a safe way to travel by taxi since there is a record of who was your driver, time of journey and cab details.

All taxis have a meter ("moneh" in Hebrew), and it is the law that the driver does in fact put it on when traveling within the city (always check!). Receipts are available upon request. Tips are not customary. The meter starts at 11.50 NIS. Rates are higher from 9:00 p.m.- 6:00 a.m. and during Shabbat (not all companies work on Shabbat).

Extra charges: if you order the taxi by phone, if there are more than two people taking the cab, and if you have suitcases.

If you flag down a cab on the street, make sure it has a sign in the front windshield indicating an official taxi company. Always ask the cab driver for a receipt in case you forget something in the cab or want to report a complaint.

In general, you are advised to sit in the back seat of the cab.

Tipping cab drivers is not customary.

A few local cab companies:

Smadar (Emek Refaim) 02-566-4444, 02-563-5111

Rechavia Taxi 02-625-4444/5/6

Hatayelet 02-672-2222

Malha 02-679-4111

Note that there are set rates for travel between cities - you do not have to negotiate one. Though the bus is usually the cheapest option and Egged goes almost everywhere, you can take a taxi between cities. See <http://www.taxi99.co.il/> (In Hebrew).

A sherut is a shared taxi-van. Sheruts are available between major cities and to and from the airport. There are usually sherut stands right near the main bus station in every city. In Jerusalem there is also a sherut stand for travel to Tel Aviv (and a few other major cities) on HaRav Kook Street across from Kikar Zion; sheruts to Beit Shemesh are next to the Central Bus Station. The driver will wait for the van to fill up, so allow extra time if you plan to travel this way. Sheruts travel on Shabbat.

Inter-City Train

At the moment, the train from Malha station, near the Mall (18 bus to the station), is a meandering, beautiful but long ride to Tel Aviv. If you are traveling by train to other points in Israel, best to take the 480 Egged bus from the Bus Station to its end at the Arlozorov Train Station in Tel Aviv, and then catch a train to points north and south.

<http://www1.rail.co.il/en/Pages/Homepage.aspx>

Airport Transportation (Note: The airport is often referred to as “NATBAG”)

- Sherut: A sherut is a shuttle van service, and best known is the Neshet Service. It costs 64 NIS per person (or $20). The driver will come pick you up (or drop you off) at your home. Tell the sherut when you want to arrive at the airport and they will tell you when they will pick you up – they pick up many people and know, according to your address, if you’ll be the first or last or somewhere in between! Neshet 02-625-7227, 02-623-1231, 1-599-500-205. Call the night before you want to get picked up. Neshet does run on Shabbat.

From the airport to your apartment in Jerusalem, walk out of the airport, turn right, and look for drivers holding signs with the names of cities. They will help you get on the right sherut.

- By bus: There is now a new direct bus service to the airport run by the Afikim Bus Company. The bus stop is to the left of the entrance to the Central Bus Station. Cost: NIS 16 Runs every half hour, 24 hours a day, not Shabbat.

<https://www.touristisrael.com/bus-ben-gurion-airport-jerusalem/20176/>

If it’s not Shabbat, and it’s manageable with your luggage, this might be the easiest way to get to and from Jerusalem. (You can then get a taxi once you get to the Central Bus Station.)

Check www.bus.co.il for exact times.

- Private cabs to the airport: Private cabs to the airport are available and cost approximately 270 NIS.

- Discount cabs to airport: Discount cabs are available for approximately 200 NIS from Jerusalem. See <http://www.taxi99.co.il/>.

- By train: There is a brand new, high speed train from Jerusalem to Ben Gurion airport. It takes less than 20 minutes. As of Oct. 2018, the train does not run on Fridays. You do have to reserve a ticket in advance. Details here.

TELEPHONE INFORMATION

In Israel, the area code is two numbers preceding the phone number. The Jerusalem region area code is "02." When calling from a land line phone within the Jerusalem area, you do not need to dial 02. From cell phones, the regional area code always must be dialed, even if you are in Jerusalem and calling a Jerusalem number.

Cell phones

Israel uses a GSM (SIM card) system. While European cell phone companies are also GSM, many U.S. companies are not. If you have a smart phone that uses a SIM card, you should be able to purchase a local SIM card. You might need to "unlock" your cell phone before coming to Israel in order to put in a new SIM. If not, you will need to rent a phone in Israel. SIM cards (a phone line) can be purchased from any of the 8-10 cell phone companies in Israel. If you need to rent a phone, then you will need to use the services of one of the companies that work with tourists/students.

The cellular phone market in Israel is dynamic and competitive, with many options and companies for you to choose from.

List of companies that work with tourists: Global Cellular-IsraeliPhones (has a store and pick up/return at Ben-Gurion airport), TalknSave, Annatel, and more.

Several of the cell phone providers have stores and representatives at the mall across from Pardes and close by. Many students recommend the "Golan" plan as the cheapest (located at the Best Mobile kiosk, 2nd floor, at the Hadar Mall across the street from Pardes.) Prices and terms change often so do some research.

Israel Cell Phone companies: Golan, Partner, RamieLevy, HOT Mobile, Cellcome, 012 Mobile, YouPhone, Pelephone. (not all cell phone operators allow for short-term and some do not take foreign credit cards).
